

FNMI (First Nations, Métis, Inuit) Award

In recognition of the contributions made by members, the ETT Member Service Committee has created the FNMI (First Nations, Métis, Inuit) Award. The ETT Member Service Committee's goal is to raise awareness of the importance of FNMI issues, anti-racism, social justice, social responsibility, peace principles, and equity in all levels of our communities. This award may be given to one member who integrates FNMI ideas and values into their teaching philosophy. ETT members are encouraged to submit nominees from all divisions, including primary, junior, and intermediate. A sum of $100.00 shall be given to the recipient of this award. A teacher may be the recipient of this award once during their career. The recipients of the FNMI Award shall be recognized at the Annual Dinner.

Criteria:

The FNMI Award may be granted to a current ETT member who:

1. shows social responsibility by taking initiative and bringing about positive awareness of FNMI issues;
2. regularly embeds FNMI values, ideas, and teachings in lessons and activities;
3. shows leadership that positively affects the lives of students and school culture; and
4. has a passionate attitude towards equity and is an excellent role model.
